

"CY" MOREY WAS THE STAR

Gave 3 Hits, Struck Out 10,
Gave No Cheap Bases.

TAIL-ENDERS SHUT OUT.

Giants Rapped Donovan for Eight Safe
Drives, Winning 2 to 0—Rutland and Burlington Tied and Game Was Called.

It took the Giants just an hour and thirty minutes to get away with the tail-enders, by the score of 2 to 0, yesterday afternoon at Intercity Park. Plattsburg didn't have a chance to win in the nine innings and had only one chance to score, to which they were not equal. This scoreless state of affairs was due to the superb pitching of Ola, better known as "Cy" Morey. No prettier exhibition of twirling has been seen here this year. He allowed but three hits, struck out ten men and didn't award a walking ticket, nor did he hit a man. But four more than the minimum number of batters faced him. Of the five men who got first base all died there except one Cote, who stole second and went to third when Apperious juggled Eaton's high throw which went into center field. The rest of the team voted Cote a medal of honor of having passed second base.

Against Morey was Donovan who was touched up for eight singles in eight innings. Donovan was also free with his gifts, passing five men, two of them in the seventh inning, and in the second. Donovan received excellent support, particularly from Hays in center field. Hays is, or at least was until very recently, a member of the Whitney bunch, and just why he was playing with Plattsburg yesterday no one seemed to know. "Dick" Cosgrave on first base also accorded him good backing, while the others did what they could, with the exception of one fumble by Lauder. Cosgrave got a foul close to the grand stand in good style.

Burns, who played third in the absence of Grant, captured a liner from Lauder's bat that went with terrific force. Burns would have been justified in dropping it. Dorman played fast ball at short, and his one misplay in nine chances was a high throw to first on Fountain's grounder. The Giants' other error was by Stankard on a ground ball from Skelly's bat.

The first scoring came in the third, although in the second, with one down, Eaton rapped out the first hit off Donovan and Burns got the base on Lauder's fumble. There should have been an easy double play. But there was no harm done. There were two out in the third when Apperious lined it out to center field for a clean single. Stankard followed with a cutter to left which clipped a fast course over third base, sending Apperious to third. Then Morey slammed to center for a base, and Apperious scored, Stankard going to third. Morey attempted to take second and died on the way.

Morey singled again in the sixth, with one out, but neither Eaton nor Burns was able to advance him. However, the locals reeled one off in the next inning. Shaughnessy drew one of Donovan's numerous gifts, and Ashmore sent him to second with a sacrifice. Dorman loosened the strings on Donovan's gift bag, and Uniac lined out a safe one. The coach didn't take any chances and held Shaughnessy on third. Apperious failed to find a hit and struck out, but Stankard was good for a single, and Shaughnessy crossed the plate. Morey's attempt was taken care of by Donovan.

Plattsburg's story is easily told. In the second Wells sandwiched in a hit between two strikeouts, and died on first. Kuhns made the visitors' second hit in the sixth and failed to pilfer second when Skelly struck out. With two down in the seventh, Cote singled and stole second, Eaton throwing the ball high. When Apperious juggled the over-throw Cote took third. Wells, the next man, was a victim to Morey's spit ball. In every other inning they went out in order, except in the first, when Skelly got first on Stankard's fumble. The score:

the others on errors by Stankard and Dorman, respectively.

Uniac isn't in shape, but his batting helps out.

Not one of the local outfield had a chance for a put out.

There was never a skip nor a break in Morey's pace.

When a bit is really needed Stankard is the man the fans like to see come to the bat.

Plattsburg is the poorest drawing card of the season. The empty bleachers and the hollow grandstand looked like winter.

Hays' brother witnessed the game from the grand stand and heard the uncomplimentary things said about Brother Tom.

With the sun in his eyes Burns dropped a high foul, but the way he stood up under Lauder's vicious liner didn't remind one of Grant under very similar conditions.

"I'll bet you a dollar I'll make a hit before the game is out," yelled Whitney's man Hays. Let's see how he did. The first time up he struck out; the second time he went out, Dorman to Ashmore. He didn't pay the dollar. Who expected Hays would pay the dollar?

Umpire Was Exhausted.

So Game Between Burlington and Rutland Was Called.

Rutland, August 24.—Nervous exhaustion on the part of Umpire McGuirk resulted in the calling of a tied game between Burlington and Rutland at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon in the 10th inning and with the score 2 and 2.

For nine noisy innings the umpire stood it, but the beginning of the 10th saw his finish and with shaking limbs and uncertain voice he announced to the grand stand that it was nobody's game. On two or three occasions the crowd from the bleachers swarmed down on the field and surrounded the umpire, whose rank decisions two or three times prevented Rutland from getting the needed scores.

Persistent rooting and timely hitting saved Rutland in the ninth from a shut out. The score:

BATTED IN ONE INNING.

Boston and Cleveland Broke Even in Their Doubleheaders—Two Other
Double Games Were Decided Evenly.

Cleveland, August 24.—Boston took the first game of the double header with Cleveland yesterday afternoon, by the score of 7 to 4, and the home team captured the second, 2 to 1. Young pitched the first game for the Champions and was touched up in lively fashion. Hess was knocked out of the game in the fifth inning.

Boston scored one in the first on Selbach's pass, an error, a wild pitch and Parent's double. In the fourth Collins' double, Flick's error on Ferris' long hit and Criger's single brought in two more scores, making it 3 to 0. The fifth inning was the limit of Hess. Selbach started with a double and was advanced by Parent's sacrifice. Burckett singled, and Selbach scored. Collins rapped a safe one to center and Stahl's fly dropped safe, Burckett scoring. The bases were filled when Freeman got a pass, and Ferris brought in two men with a double.

Larry Lajoie made his appearance in the game in the sixth inning, it being his first game since July 6. He was given a great sendoff as he batted for Hess, but the best he could do was to give Collins a chance for a force-out. Rhoades finished in the box for the home team, and Boston scored no more during the game, while Cleveland seemed to have up. Two singles and an out gave them a score in the sixth, and a pass, three singles and Parent's fumble gave them three more in the eighth.

The second game went to Cleveland because of superior batting. Each team made an error apiece.

IN ACTIVE TRAINING.

Britt and Nelson Working Hard for the Coming Bout.

San Francisco, August 24.—Training for the Britt-Nelson bout has now begun in earnest, and the arena at Colma has been started, so that everything points to the fact that the bout will be held where it was originally announced, at Colma, and not in San Francisco. Both pugilists are training out of doors in order to accustom themselves to work in the hot sun, and besides long runs, which are undertaken to develop endurance, do their bag punching and boxing in the open air. Nelson is at Larkspur, further from the beach than Britt, whose training quarters are almost on the edge of the ocean.

The Battling Dane is adding horseback riding to the usual training routine and took a long ride yesterday. Both men are working hard to get down to weight, and both seem in fine shape for so early in their training work. It is probable that Jeffries may referee the bout. It is said that both fighters are satisfied that the unthrone champion should take charge of the bout and are only waiting for the favorable decision of the promoters to have him chosen as arbiter.

DEMAND OLD RATES.

Royal Arcanum Representatives Meet in Secret Session.

New York, Aug. 24.—At a 12-hour session, attended by representatives of seven-ights of the Royal Arcanum membership of the United States and Canada, held Tuesday in this city, resolutions were passed demanding that the supreme council of the order rescind at Put-in-Bay next week their action raising rates taken by the supreme council last May.

If this is not done, it was declared there will be wholesale secessions and law suits. Open charges of breach of trust were made against the supreme council. The session was attended by prominent Arcanumites from the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Michigan which states embrace a membership of 295,000 out of the total of 316,000 in the order.

GIRL BANDIT IS JAILED.

Two Vermont Outlaws to Serve Out Stiff Sentences.

Rutland, Aug. 24.—Levina Lamphere, the Bennington county girl who was arrested a few weeks ago with a famous gang of outlaws, and Daniel Brockway, a member of the gang, were given heavy prison sentences by Judge E. L. Bates of Bennington Tuesday evening.

The girl will serve 2½ years at the house of correction here for lewdness, and the man 14 years in all, divided between state prison at Windsor and the house of correction. The couple had been bound over to the grand jury, but decided to plead guilty.

Brockway got 4½ years for breaking and entering, the same for assault, 2½ years for larceny and $100 fine with costs for lewdness, in which he will serve out the alternative sentence.

Reed, the other member of the gang, is still at large.

JURY FAILS TO PLACE BLAME FOR THE CRIME

Verdict Is That Mattie Hackett Came to Her Death at "Hands of Person Unknown."

Kent's Hill, Me., Aug. 24.—The inquest under the direction of Coroner Henry T. Morse of Augusta, to investigate the murder of Miss Mattie Hackett last Thursday night, was held yesterday in the town house at Readfield. The coroner's jury organized by the choice of W. G. Hutton as foreman and C. W. Crosby, clerk. The other members are George C. Jacobs, John L. Davis, W. H. Atkinson and Frank A. Dow. The forenoon session was devoted to the examination of witnesses who figure in the early investigation of the case.

Levi L. Hackett, father of the murdered girl, told the story of the tramp asking for supper and lodging, the murdered girl's willingness to prepare lunch for him, the return to the barn with the tramp, Jones, who is now held in August jail as a witness, and later the hearing of screams, the discovery of the girl's absence from the house, and the finding of her body by the roadside.

Other witnesses described the appearance of the body, the disarranged and torn clothing, and the knotted hemp cord which was drawn tightly around her neck. Drs. J. S. Milliken and A. H. Stortevant, who performed the autopsy, testified that strangulation was the sole cause of death.

The coroner's jury after a short inquest reported that the young woman came to her death on the night of August 17 by reason of being strangled with a cord around her neck by a person or persons to the jury unknown.
